MASONIC FEMALE INSTITUTE,

CLEVELAND, TENN.

Rev. J. N. Bradshaw, Principal.
The next Session of this Institute will commence on the FIRST MONDAY in January 1863, under the direction and professorship of the Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, who has the charge of it for the last 12 months.

The Trustees in making this announcement would most especially appeal to all citizens who have daughters to educate, to send them to this institution.

Mr. Bradshaw has had charge of it for the last 12 months, and has given it the most diligent and unremitting attention to its welfare.

There never was a better time for men to educate their daughters than now.

There is plenty—everything a female raises bears two prices, and the Tuition to this School is the same—that it was when everything was at low figures.

What excuse can there be now for a man who neglects to educate his daughter? None. Because here in Cleveland a highly located, we have an Institute, with an excellent faculty, and a large library, and the students are taught in every class with their own teachers.

Let one and all put their shoulder to the wheel, and we will build up a School as will be fit for the benefit of us and our posterity in our town—We have the building and we have the Teachers—the balance devotes itself to the people. We hope they may nobly perform their duty.

The Trustees are thankful to the Friends for the patronage bestowed upon Mr. Bradshaw's Institute, and are glad to know that under his administration the Institution has met with the favor of the revising committee in the first days of the Session.

SUNDAY MORNING JAN. 11, 1863.

FROM MIDDLE TENNESSEE.

WINCHESTER, TENN., Jan. 7, 1863.

Correspondence of the Rebel.]

Don't be surprised if you hear of our victorious army advancing to a point nearer Nashville, than the recent field of battle. Our forces are true, are in the neighborhood of Shelbyville, to which place Gen'l. Bragg led them, that they might freshen up their wasted energies and rest. It was a wise and judicious move to say necessary movement. Gen. Bragg will certainly hold Middle Tennessee, and with God's blessing we shall yet get possession of Nashville. The troops are in the best of spirits and after a few days will be as ready as ever to meet the foe. I am unable to give you other than "reliable" rumors from the front, it is even questioned whether the enemy has entered Murfreesboro. Our cavalry under Winston and Wheeler are close upon the enemy's line. Gen'l. Morgan has just returned from his travels in Ky. He has destroyed the Louisville and Nashville Railroad for fifteen or twenty miles from above the Green River. At Murfreesboro there was an abolition force of ten thousand posted to protect the river bridge. Leaving that structure a hundred yards of other bridges—miles of costly work, a large amount of army stores and paraded 2000 prisoners. Gen'l. Morgan is with his command, while at the residence of our excellent friend Frank McMurphy Esq.

The Rev. Dr. Pusey, rector of St. Peter's Church, Columbia, has left his home to devote himself to the care of our sick and wounded.

Mr. William A. Dearing, who was shot last week in Anderson county, Va., by Mr. Valentine Kucker, is dead.

Mr. Henry McKenzie, a well known and highly esteemed merchant of Charleston, died after a protracted illness on Sunday night at Summerville, S.C. He was a partner in the old established dry goods house of McKenzie & Co.

He was a man of great learning, a devout pastor and ever ready for any good word or work.

A number of our wounded are to be brought to this place. One hundred and fifty will arrive to-night—all of Cheatham's Division. I do not know how long it shall remain at this point.

Such a thing as certainty in regard to army movements is quite out of the question, but you shall hear from me soon.
